Societies, Organizations

focused on Pre-Columbian Mesoamerica in general, and Maya topics in particular

PLEASE NOTE

This report has not been licensed to any other web site nor to any organization.

Also, since this report may be updated if you got your version from somewhere else, it may be an obsolete edition.

To obtain a legitimate copy, which you know is the complete report, please obtain your original and full report directly from www.maya-archaeology.org, www.digital-photography.org, or our new web site on 3D technology for cultural heritage featuring 3D scanning for ethno-botany and ethno-zoology www.3d-scanners-3d-software-reviews.org.

If you are a professor, instructor at any college or university, or an officer at any learned society, museum, botanical garden, zoological park or comparable, and you wish to distribute copies of this to your staff or students, please simply let us know so that we can authorize the distribution.

If your museum, university, college, botanical garden, zoological facility wishes to receive all future FLAAR Reports (comparable to a Subscription format), there is no charge if we arrange a download system for your institution (available currently only for museums, universities, and comparable)

There is no cost to distribute this report, but we do wish to authorize it from the FLAAR publication system. We have five web designers and programmers in-house on staff.

If you find any mistakes or omissions in this report, or if you know of a Pre-Columbian society that we forgot to list, please let us know so that we can consider it. Write FrontDesk@FLAAR.org

Dr. Nicholas Hellmuth Director of FLAAR, lecturing about the iconography and symbolism of the Maya area Patolli, at the III Congreso Centroamericano de Arqueología in El Salvador "Fronteras, regiones y culturas en Centroamérica precolombina".

This presentation is based on several years doing research on Maya iconography, Teotihuacan iconography and the Patolli game board designs.

Archaeologist Antonieta Cajas (at the podium, back right) is the organizer of this Patolli presentation for FLAAR. She did the general introduction to the Aztec, Mixtec, and corpus of Patolli boards in Mesoamerica.

ARCHAEOLOGY IN ST. LOUIS, Missouri

FLAAR and Nicholas Hellmuth have a family background in St Louis. So although we are international in our coverage, St Louis is where the US office tends to be located. So we start this report with a list of archaeology societies in St Louis.

Please realize that this specific FLAAR Report is not a list of universities with pre-Columbian focus (that will be a separate report; there will also be a forthcoming report on all Maya workshops, etc).
